AH 7921 (Item No. 12036) is an analytical reference material categorized as an opioid.\(^1\) It is an analgesic with high addictive liability in animal models.\(^2,3\) AH 7921 is regulated as a Schedule I compound in the United States. This product is intended for research and forensic applications. This product is qualified as a Reference Material that has been manufactured and tested to ISO/IEC 17025 and ISO 17034 international standards.

References